

UK Oil and Gas Industry Job Sites

Oil Companies will not accept any personnel to work offshore without a Safety Survival Certificate.

There are many Survival Centres throughout the United Kingdom the main one being in the North-East of Scotland called Petrofac. They can be contacted on 0845 606 2909.

The cost for BOSIET for working in the industry is currently £691 + VAT and it is a three day course. There are a large number of specialist and additional training courses available to work off-shore and the recommendation is that you access a site such as Petrofac at <http://www.petrofactrainingcourses.com/> for further details. There are other training providers available.

Please note that this is not comprehensive and only highlights a small percentage of the recruitment and training web sites that are available via the internet. The fact that these sites have been listed instead of others should in no way be considered a recommendation of any sort by the Department for Work and Pensions or EURES. They are simply listed to provide you with a starting point.
